Top 10 Reasons to Study Arts Administration at FSU

1. Our prestigious faculty have a variety of backgrounds and experiences.
2. Our faculty-to-student ratio is considerably low for Master’s and Doctoral Students.
3. Our program encourages interdisciplinary study of Arts Administration with students in the Arts Administration program in the College of Music and Theatre Management students in the College of Fine Arts. Students also study with students in the Art Education and Art Therapy programs.
4. Our program addresses all of the Association of Arts Administration Educators’ standards for graduate education in Arts Administration.
5. Our program emphasizes theory and practice through service learning and internships.
6. Our alumni job placement rate for the last three years is over 100%.
7. Our alumni have prominent and fulfilling careers.
8. Because FSU participates in the academic common market, students from Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Virginia qualify for in-state tuition.
9. After one continuous year of study, out-of-state students may apply for residency, which allow them to receive in-state tuition rates.
10. The cost of living in Tallahassee is 6% below the national average, which makes food, healthcare, housing, and transportation more affordable than cities such as Atlanta, Los Angeles, Miami, New York City, and Washington, DC. In addition, Florida residents do not pay state income of personal income tax.